Picturesque Backgrounds.
Heart of Sunset (Harper).
By Rex Beach.
A very modern up to date tale of the Mexican border. Hunting of cattle and arms across the border, a heroine held prisoner by an insurgent Mexican leader, a chivalrous ranger lover and adventurous thrills make the story.
The Star Rover (Macmillan).
By Jack London.
A gripping story of a man who attempted to free his spirit from his body, recounting the wonderful adventures of this "star rover," covering long lapses of years and introducing strange people in strange lands.
A Baby of the Frontier (Revell).
By Cyrus Townsend Brady.
The Western plains introduce pioneer days, Indian adventures and the thrilling episodes which surround the capture by a tribe of Cheyenne Indians of the little daughter of the commanding officer of Fort Sully.
The Rainbow Trail (Harper).
By Zane Grey.
A "double barreled story" of adventure in the Southwest, embodying the twin problems of that region. The most stirring scenes are laid in the Mormon country from which, on account of the frankness of his writings, the author was banished with a price on his head.
Wings of Danger (McBride).
By Arthur A. Nelson.
A quest for a lost city located in the wild lands of unknown Africa. Pure romance, introducing fierce passions and all the thrills of peril.
The Man from the Bitter Roots (Lippincott).
By Caroline Lockhart.
A hero who is a born fighter; he fought his partner, insane from mountain loneliness; he fought an Idaho blizzard, a roaring river, a crooked mining estate, a wrestling champion, and finally he conquered the girl for whom he had waged his battles.
Guimo (Rilly & Britton).
By Walter Ewald.
The life story of the wistful, virile son

Three young men full of generous dreams of social reform come to New York—their adventures with the underworld; the Great White Way; the ever waging war of right against might—all is intimately told in Bronson Howard's intensely interesting novel.

"The moral will set a nation thinking." "Is needed to shock the city into mending its ways."—N. Y. Times.

SELECTED FALL BOOKS

- THE GLORIOUS RASCAL
By JUSTIN HUNTER MCCARTHY
Author of "If I Were King," etc. $1.35 net.
A new "If I Were King" romance. A story of the incomparable Villon by the inimitable Justin Hunter McCarthy. Moreover, it is a story of Villon's golden youth—the youth of a great poet, a great rascal, a great fighter and a great lover.
- THE ROSE OF YOUTH
By ELINOR MORSAUNT
Author of "Belamy," "Simpson," etc. $1.35 net.
The Divine Fire never burned more brightly in any youth than in Teddy of Elinor Morsaunt's "Fortunate Youth." His early life was spent amid grubby surroundings, but with the same optimism he refused to absorb the atmosphere about him, and through rose-colored glasses peered into the future.
- The Story of the Soul's Struggle Seen Through the Eyes of Genius

THE "GENIUS"

By Theodore Dreiser
Author of "Sister Carrie," "The Titan," etc.
"Mr. Dreiser proves himself once more a master realist... he is a great, a very great artist. In a season remarkable for its excellent fiction this new book of his immediately takes its place in the front rank."—New York Tribune. Cloth, $1.50 net.

MAKING MONEY

By OWEN JOHNSON
Author of "The Salamander," "Shore at Yale," etc.

"The author has put the feverish excitement of Wall Street into a thoroughly human and moving story, lighted at every step by a drama of young love."—N. Y. Times.
"His best piece of work since STOVER AT YALE, told with genuine skill and power."—Boston Transcript.

EMMA MCCLESNEY & CO.

By EDNA FERBER
Author of "Boys and Girls," "Dinner at Eight," etc.
Probably the best known woman in American fiction is Edna Ferber. Her first novel, "Boys and Girls," was a tremendous success. This new volume shows her at her best, with a new romance to lighten the heart.

SHADOWS OF FLAMES

By AMELIE RIVES
Princess Troubetzkoy
Author of "World's End," etc.
Clean, yet trembling with passion, the dramatic love-story of Sophie and her strange, romantic husband, "Bob" Garraty, as much as you did her sister Bambi. Just out. Net $1.00. Illustrated. Doubleday, Page & Company.

REVELL'S NEW BOOKS

Alaska Days with John Muir
S. HALL YOUNG.
"I can see only one fault with the book: it is far too short. I should love to read such a book as big as the dictionary."—Gene Stratton-Porter, Author of "The Girl of the Limberlost." Illustrated, net $1.00.

EDWARD A. STEINER
Author of "On the Trail of the Immigrant."

Introducing the American Spirit
"A big heart and a sense of humor" are qualities much in evidence in Steiner's new book. In showing off America to an old world companion, Steiner gives us the real dominating American spirit and we see ourselves as others see us. Net $1.00.

PROF. HUGH BLACK
The New World
"The old order changeth, bringing in the new." To a review of our changing world—religious, scientific, social—Hugh Black brings that interpretative skill and keen insight which distinguishes all his writings and thinking. Net $1.00.

When My Ship Comes Home
CLARA E. LAUGHLIN, Author of "Everybody's Lonesome"

THE LIFE AND LETTERS OF JOHN HAY
By WILLIAM ROSCOE THAYER
This authorized Life of one of the greatest diplomats and men of letters is probably the most important American biography of the decade. The first volume is largely devoted to his life as private secretary and chief confidant of Lincoln, and gives a fresh and remarkably interesting picture of the great President and of the Civil War. The second volume deals principally with Hay's diplomatic career and throws a flood of new light on our foreign relations and on the character and conduct of his famous contemporaries from Lincoln to Roosevelt.
